

Request

My life is almost over, and
I've done

So few of all the things I meant to do.

No fortunes earned, no
recognition won.

No great endeavors march
into review.

No crowds applaud at
mention of my name;
and to mankind, no great
contributions;

Not any achievements to
bring me fame,

So I beseech to the world,
two fine sons.

Betty Bisson, Date UnKnown